

AD 130 or 131

ANTINOUS, a favorite slave who was drowned was deified
in AD 130 or 131.

Slave of Hadrian

130 AD

1912 Dates J-BK

Hadrian and his wife, SABINA visited the Colossus of Memnon
in Egypt & carved their names
there

130 AD

Ptolemy, an Egyptian geographer lived in 130 AD.

He thought that there was a continent lying south of Asia & Europe and that it swung around and joined the southern part of Africa. He made a map. This is the map Columbus used.

A0130

The Pantheon in Rome and palace
at TIVOLI built by emperor Hadrian

Q130AD

Hadrian's time

Roman empire encompassed 60 million population.

C/30

143BC to 135AD

1912 Dates J-BK

The MIDRASH, or enquiry into the meaning of the Old Testament.

Was divided into "HALACHA" or authoritative and binding civil & religious law, and "HAGGADA"; which was a free poetical dissertation on the whole body of the Old Testament. The Midrash was the center of all Jewish mental activity for over 1500 years

Also in this period 143AC → 135AD
Josephus, Philo, Hillel, Shammai
Johann ben-Zakkai, Samuel, Eleazar ben Hyrcan, Joshua ben-Hosaya, Jehoshaphat and Abita

AD 130 - c 201

Galen was physician

Hadrian founded Colony of Aelia
Capitolina (Jerusalem)

AD 130

Hadrian took the youth ANTINOUS with him on his visit to Egypt. Antinous met a mysterious end in Egypt. Hadrian said he had fallen from a boat during a trip on the Nile.

Hadrian was deeply grieved by the death of his favorite and founded the city ANTINOOPOLIS, on the spot where he had died

In Hadrian's time in Southern Italy, a mile of Roman road cost £4000. Hadrian b. 76 AD Reign 117-138

One island of Sicily had 1000 mi of such roads

In France 13,200 mi of road can still be traced till this day

C130 AD → 136 AD + 1912 Dates J-BK

DETRIANUS, Greek architect restored the PANTHEON; built the mausoleum of Hadrian;
and bridge of St. Angelo.

15 Dec 130

Lucius Verus was born at Rome

130AD

DURANT

AELIA CAPITOLINA founded on site of Jerusalem.

Theon of Smyrna, mathematician
Arrian of Nicomedia, historian
Claudius Ptolemy, astronomer